ABOUT B'KEM

PERFORMING ARTIST, SONG WRITER, PRODUCER

Multi-Award winning American-Nigerian artist B'kem, a recipient of multiple awards, made history as the first African American male to grace the Colors Of Love platform. His recent album release, "Take," has garnered significant attention for its compelling messages, resulting in a surge of streams. Moreover, he stood out among thousands of entries to earn a coveted spot on America's beloved NPR Tiny Desk, where he performed captivating song "Taking Over as a featured artist alongside Ofendaa.

B'kem has performed all over, and appeared in multiple media outlets including FOX News, Jamaican gleaner, Pulse Nigeria, Guide Radio, Sunny FM (Ghana), Voyage LA, Afroglobal TV, Rythmic Reblion, Maranatha Awards, FENIX360, to name a few. What separates B'kem from the majority of his hip hop compatriots is his approach. Unlike most rappers who take the lazy approach - dirty lyrics, violent behavior, substance abuse, and naked women, B'kem searches for the truths that can be incorporated into his sound.
